Davidson Has Ph.D. In Political Science

Emmet T. Davidson, instructor of political science at UMD, was recently awarded his Ph. D. from the University of Missouri.

The subject of his doctorates thesis was, "Public Regulation of Labor Union Practices."

Dr. Davidson received his B. A. degree from the College of Emporia, Kansas. He was awarded his M. A. degree from the University of Arkansas.

Dr. Davidson

He joined the UMD teaching staff in 1948. Previously he held positions as a school administrator in secondary schools and an instructor of business administration at Westminster college.

Lindquist to Speak On Youth Guidance

Dr. Maude Lindquist, associate professor in the division of social studies, will be the fourth speaker in the Youth Guidance Series to be held at Washington Junior high school auditorium Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 8 p. m.

Her topic will be "The Community Serves Its Youth."

Dr. Lindquist has been active in state and local welfare work and is co-author of three books on Minnesota.

Kappa Delta to Induct 24 Education Students

Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary fraternity for students in the field of education, will initiate into its membership 24 pledges Tuesday, Feb. 7, at the Lincoln hotel. These pledges are in the upper quarter of the student body both in education courses and over-all academic courses.

Wesley Foundation To Have Guest Night

The Wesley Foundation will conduct a Guest Night, Tuesday, Feb. 7, at 5:45 p. m. at the Endion Methodist church, 19th Ave. East and First St.

Dr. L. B. Wood, pastor of the Central Avenue Methodist church, will address the group on "A Student's Religious Philosophy."

Vocal selections by Marvin Rowe and Betty Flockhart will complete the program.

Tickets for the supper may be obtained from members of the Wesley Foundation or at the Endion Methodist church.

Student Council Returns Gamma Theta Phi Constitution Stresses Non-discriminatory Clause

The Student council returned Gamma Theta Pi's constitution to the club for additions Tuesday night. Special emphasis was placed on a strong non-discriminatory clause.

Gamma Theta Pi is the first social fraternity to apply for recognition by the council.

The Political council's proposed amendment to increase the present number of members at large in the Student council met with defeat.

Orchesis to Perform At Rhythm Institute

Orchesis, UMD modern dance group under the direction of Rosemary Harmeier, will participate in a rhythm demonstration and discussion program to be held tomorrow at 9 a. m. in the auditorium.

Dr. Graybeal

The program is under the direction of the department of physical education. The committee consists of Dr. Elizabeth Graybeal, chairman, Miss Harmeier, Thelma Johnson, Edith Peterson and Helen Stark.

Virginia Johnson, instructor at Lowell school, will lead the teaching demonstration with grade school children of the laboratory and Chester Park schools taking part.

UMD provost, Raymond C. Gibson, will initiate the institute for elementary rhythm education with a welcome address.

Orchesis will present dance techniques, "Dry Bones" and "Ave Maria".

Art Fraternity Pledges Members

Eleven members were pledged into Kappa Pi, the national honorary art fraternity, at an informal tea in Tweed Tuesday.

UMD students selected were Barbara Abernathy, Fred Gregorich, Therese Mackey, Robert Markstone, James McKenzie, Muriel Rhude and Lorraine Williams.

Arthur Smith, head of the art department, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stueland and Mrs. Hiram Elliot were pledged to honorary membership in the fraternity.

Crowther to Analyze Pictures at Convo

Bosley Crowther, critic and editor of motion pictures on the New York Times, will speak at convocation Tuesday, Feb. 7.

Crowther

A strong advocate of more "true to life" pictures, he will speak on "What's Wrong with the Movies?"

After graduating from Princeton, Crowther made an extended trip through Europe. When he returned he became a general reporter on the Times staff.

In 1932 he joined the drama department under Brooks Atkinson, noted critic.

Since 1937 he has been a critic in the motion picture department of the Times.

Debate Squad Attends Meet

Four members of the UMD debate squad are participating in the Red River Valley intercollegiate invitational tournament at Concordia college in Moorhead, Minn.

Harvey Albond, John Brust, Frederick Noreen and Norman Shaft will be among college and university students from Minnesota, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota.

HOT AIR . . .

The airplanes burned last Sunday when Harvey Albond, pre-law senior, played disc-jockey on WSBK's "1490 club".

Albond, who explained that he didn't like hillbilly records because he doesn't like hillbilly records, gave most of his air-time to jazz discs.

The Sunday edition of the "1490 club" has guest disc-jockeys from the Twin Ports. Albond's program was the last of the series.

AND MORE HOT AIR . . .

If you like your listening late at night or early in the morning, WKLK is the station for you.

Freeman Johansen, pre-journalism freshman, who is a native of Cloquet and a student at UMD, has been operating a record show from 3 a. m. to 6 a. m. over WKLK, a new radio station in Cloquet.

The reason for the unconventional air-hour was that the station was testing equipment and operated between the hours of 12 midnight and 6 a. m.

DOES 'DIS COUNT . . .

The National student association has a new system of student discount cards which is sweeping the country..

Under this program students who purchase discount cards receive discounts of 10% to 25% on purchases made at establishments who agree to give the discount to students.

Merchants and cafe owners as well as cleaners and laundry services are finding it good business to cater to students.

Perhaps a similar system could be inaugurated here in Duluth where students of three colleges, UMD, Duluth Junior college and the College of St. Scholastica, do most of their buying.

LOCAL LOAN . . .

If you need money, don't fear the loan sharks!

UMD students may borrow $50 for one to three months with no interest, courtesy of fund in OSPS.

Larger sums of money are available from the Regent's fund at an interest rate of four per cent.

Joyce Peterson, home economics sophomore and Mary Myhre, business freshman, are members of the cast of the Duluth Ice Follies.

The two girls are members of the chorus for the Viennese waltz number.

The Ice Follies will be presented Feb. 11-19 in the Duluth Curling club.

'Ah'm From the Deep, Deep South, Son'

Southern Professors Popular

"De No'th sho' ain't de No'th no mo'e."

Not that we're still fighting the Civil war, but it certainly appear that the Yankees aren't educating enough of their Northern boys.

Soft Southern drawls are becoming more and more prevalent each quarter at UMD.

Probably the best known exponent of "y'all" is Dean John King.

With him he brought the warmth and personality of the South.

Many co-eds were carried away by the Dixie tang of his tongue.

UMD happily adopted its first Southern son.

An establishment of a Southern foothold seemed to induce further additions. Tubeville, Davidson, Livingston and others followed.

Soon, almost every student had a lecturer who spouted abstractness in the sarsaparilla language.

Your Last Opportunity

Two dollars spent now can mean endless hours of pleasure in the years to come.

For the past two months the annual Chronicle staff has been canvassing the student body in an attempt to sell students a book for two dollars which will grow in value as the years progress. In reality the procedure should be just the reverse. One would think that the students should be "champion" at the bit for an opportunity to buy an official record of the year's activities.

To date 435 annuals have been sold. The enrollment at UMD is over 1,850 students.

These statistics represent a pitiful state of affairs.

Next week is the week to rectify this situation.

The Chron staff, under the direction of editor Gerald Holmes and business manager Rudy Fadlovich, is reopening for one week and one week

Infantile Paralysis Drive On Now

The United States has experienced many national emergencies. Aggressions, economical collapses, famine, flood—all of these have been met and reckoned with successfully.

However, there exists today a far greater emergency whose tactics are more surreptitious and whose aftermath is more terribly devastating and crippling than aggression—Infantile Paralysis!

Science is our only method of combating this dreaded disease and science must be financed. Donate your dimes, first floor, Main.

only a revitalized campaign to give everyone who desires an annual a chance to purchase one.

A Kick-off luncheon for the campaign will be held Monday at 3 p. m., Washburn. During this week each club meeting will be visited by a subscription salesman. The Chron office, first floor Main, will also be open to serve students. Arrangements will be made whereby individuals can deposit a portion of the two dollars so that an annual may be ordered for them.

Friday, Feb. 10, the total number of books sold will be given to the printer and the printing contract will be closed. Those individuals who are not signed up will have "missed the boat".

It will be impossible to purchase a Chron next spring!

The Poesy Corner --

On First Looking Into A Duluth Branch Address Book

Much have I wandered through the halls of Main,
 And many goodly grades have I there got;
 Many a round of coffee have I bought;
 And never have I caused Professors pain.
 Oft of the wide expense had I been told
 Of publishing a student address book;
 Now at this costly tome I've had a look,
 And my response, to say the least, is cold.
 Now feel I like some watcher of the skies,
 When graceful sea-gull circling overhead
 Casts insult down to his upraised eyes.
 My spirit crushed, I wish that I were dead.
 Descend, ye gods, and make my soul more strong!
 The fools have printed my phone number wrong!

—By Herb Taylor

NOTE: The poet wrote this sonnet after discovering that his telephone number had been recorded as Radisson 3516 instead of 3415 in the Address Book.

Students Misuse Activities Cards at Ball Games

Activity cards are not transferable.

Excessive transfers of student activities cards have become more and more prevalent with each succeeding basketball game.

Unless this practice is terminated, steps will undoubtedly be taken to incur a punishment on the offenders. Should positive identification at the gate become necessary, owners of the activities cards which have been transferred would stand a good chance of having their cards confiscated.

Another solution to this problem would be to issue books of athletic tickets—one ticket per game. A picture of the individual student would be placed on the book for comparison at the door. This practice is carried on at other universities. It would involve an added expense—one which the student incidental fee, from which this expense would probably come, can ill afford.

A more practical answer is to appeal to the sense of honesty and responsibility of the students themselves.

Violations of this non-transfer rule will perpetrate rigid measures. If these measures become necessary, it will be only because the students have "brought it on themselves."

Dottie Marek, chemistry freshman, "We are living in the present and using present facilities which need improvement. Some of this money should be used to alleviate these existing conditions."

Miss Marek

Joe Stevens, pre-engineering sophomore, "Yes, as long as we are paying out this money we may as well derive some benefit from it."

Stevens

Lynn Duncan, deferred major, freshman, "I think we should use some of the money for Washburn because it is badly needed there and that way we would get some use out of our money."

Duncan

Dick Booth, pre-engineering freshman, "In the interest of better student conditions, improvement of facilities is necessary. However, if the money is set aside for improving Washburn, I think that the Student council should supervise the job."

Mrs. McClearn Finds Kids Cooperative

By Jean Lundquist

In the UMD address book her title is "recreational worker." She believes "student center supervisor" is more fitting. To hundreds of Washburn participants she is Mrs. Margaret C. McClearn whose duty it is to help students control and improve Washburn.

She believes that, with more waste cans, the messy condition will improve and says, "Students are afraid to give up their seats, so they heave the garbage toward the waste cans. It often misses."

At present Washburn has about 80 chairs, 10 large waste cans, 33 cigarette stands, one table, one piano, two settees and three cushioned chairs. A requisition is in for more waste cans and chairs.

She believes that 90 per cent of the students would treat new furnishings properly.

But as she added, "There is always that ten per cent."

The office of Mrs. McClearn in the sunporch has caused no open resentment from the boys. This previously exclusive male territory has not been affected by the invasion of a woman.

"The minute I leave my desk, four are crowded on top

★ and three wedged in the chair."

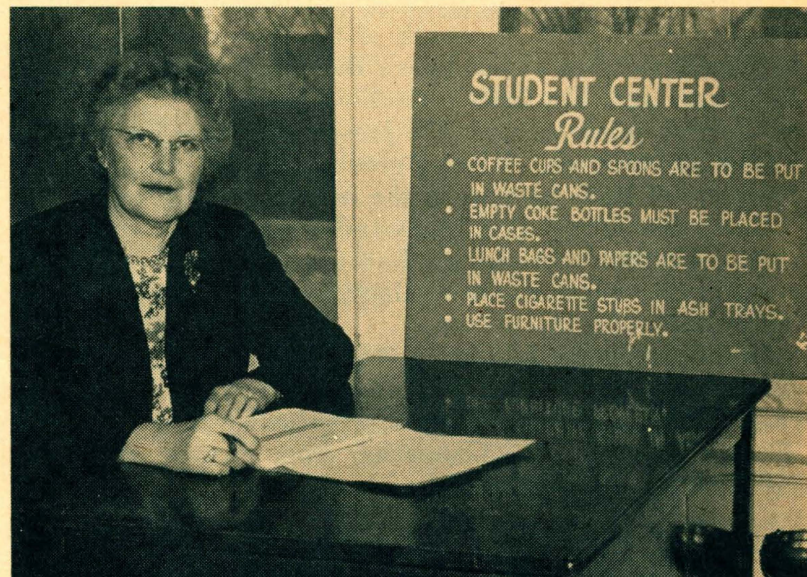

She would like students to introduce themselves to her and then would like to encourage interest in control of Washburn.

"It pleases me that students are interested. In the long run student opinion and student cooperation are going to better conditions."

Mrs. McClearn attended Mount Holyoke college in Massachusetts and received her B. A. from the University of Minnesota. She taught math at UMD when it was a state teachers college.

She has three children, a factor which explains her interest in young people.

Michael Cole (Business club) cited the lack of interest in previous student elections. He recommended that the Political council's amendment be enacted with a limitation of one member for each 100 students voting.

Dave Dye (Rangers) moved that the amendment be changed to read, "one member for each 400 students," pointing out that further enlargement at this time would make the council unwieldy.

His proposal was passed by an eighteen to seven vote, and the amended amendment to the constitution passed unanimously.

LOCKER-ROOM CHATTER

by DAVE DYE

This paper and reporter have been doing an injustice in past issues by not mentioning the UMD junior varsity basketball squad. This team plays preliminary games to every UMD game at the Armory.

To date, the record of the squad is 6-2, the losses being administered by the St. Cloud jayvees and Eveleth Junior college at Eveleth. The latter setback was avenged last Monday as the junior Bulldogs defeated the Tigers, 52-43.

Jim Hastings is the coach of the future varsity players. He was a member of last year's Bulldog five and co-captain two years ago. Jim hails from Two Harbors as does his prize protege, Bill Jensen, 6 foot, 5 inch pivoteer who is being groomed to fill the shoes of Rudy Monson in the future.

Bruce Budge and Bud McDonnell are other varsity members who play on the jayvee squad along with veterans Dick Almer and Leo Seikkula.

Other freshmen besides Jensen are: Jim Anderson, a consistently high-scoring forward; John Nepp from Albert Lea; Lyle Johnston, who hails from Proctor; Bob "Lefty" Olson, Lowell Gunnarson from Proctor, and Harry Westenberg from Minneapolis.

Fritsche, Haskins Lead Pipers

Big Jim Fritsche showed some of the most beautiful hook-shooting ever witnessed in Duluth. His shots are made with the light touch usually acquired by a center after years of experience. Here is a freshman who can go far in basketball. He will make Twin Citians forget about Vern Mikkelsen and Jim McIntyre in years to come.

Although he was limited to 13 points, "Prince Hal" Haskins is a really great cager. He was employed as play-maker for the Hutton quintet and as such was credited with many assists.

It's hard to figure, but Haskins needs only about 200 points to hit 2,000 for his collegiate career, yet he seems to enjoy setting up plays for his team-mates even more than scoring by himself.

Dick Lundquist comes in for a good share of praise for his work against the Pipers. In addition to his great defensive play, he was hitting from the floor with amazing accuracy.

Lundquist

Sports' Sparks

A nice gesture was made last Saturday at the UMD-Hamline hockey game. Between periods, five UMD students volunteered their services to clean the snow off the ice.

Lee Williams, Clyde Johnson, Glenn Johnson, Jim Jernberg and Dennis Sime were the "rink rats" who performed without remuneration to make the games more enjoyable for spectators and players. Hats off for such actions!

While we're in the mood, we might pass off the official thanks to radio station WREX for broadcasting UMD basketball games. Students who cannot attend really appreciate this service.

The Bulldog ski team competes in the MIAC ski meet next Tuesday at St. Olaf. Ward Wells has a powerful squad which could hand UMD its first MIAC championship in athletic competition.

Hastings

This school could and should be the center of hockey and skiing in mid-western collegiate circles, but more of that next week.

UMD Six Defeats Hamline Before Losing to Johnnies

After blazing its way through three bruising periods, the UMD hockey team came out on the long end of a 6-3 score by crushing the Hamline Pipers Saturday afternoon at Ordean field.

In the opening period the Bulldogs drew first blood on Dick Bellamy's goal but were tied up when Al Sarri slipped one by Goalie Norm Thompson. The Pipers then netted another score when Dick Kachel tallied to put them ahead 2-1 as the period ended.

After the intermission, UMD didn't waste any time getting started as they scored two goals, one by Pep Sieger and another by Ernie Mustonen within one minute's time to capture the lead again from the astonished Pipers. Hamline jumped back into the game, however, when Kachel

Rotvig Team First In Girl's IM Loop

Barb Rotvig's basketball team is in the lead in the WAA round-robin tournament having won three games and lost none. Doris Peterson and Ella Johnston's teams take second place, both having won two games and lost one. Results of Tuesday's games were: Mary Ellen Hanssen forfeit to Barbara Rotvig, Miriam Murray over Delores Campbell, 14-4, and Doris Peterson over Ella Johnston, 23-9.

Jan Powell scored a record high of 193 in the WAA Wednesday night bowling league. She topped Ede Boberg's previous high of 166. "Steges Misses" lead the tournament with 17 games won and 10 lost.

Cagers, Sextet and Skiers Face Week of Hot Action

The winter sports scene reaches a climax this week as three UMD athletic teams compete on five fronts. All the competition will be on foreign soil as the cagers, sextet and skiers go on the road for conference play.

Saturday afternoon the hockey squad engages the Augsburg sextet in Minneapolis. The Bulldogs defeated the Auggies in Duluth by the score of 6-1.

Tuesday the sextet moves over to St. Peter to play the Gusties, who failed to show up for their scheduled game at Duluth.

Two more victories in these games would move the Green and Gold right up near the top in the league standings.

Saturday evening the basketball Bulldogs will growl at the Macalester gymnasium as they seek their third win in conference play.

UMD Tips Johns For Second Win

The Maroon and Gold quintet copped its second league contest as it defeated St. John's Monday night by the score of 61-49. It was the first home-court MIAC win for the Isenbarger-men.

Ed Westerhaus set the scoring pace for the locals as he garnered 19 points from his forward position. Rudy Brandstrom came into his own in the contest and emerged with 13 markers. Paul Nace added 12, while Rudy Monson was the fourth man in the double figures with 10 points.

Bill Christopherson led the invaders with his 18 point output. He was followed by Dick Rawlings and Jack Simonitch, who caged nine markers each.

The victory left the Bulldogs with a 2-4 record in conference play.

The Scots sport an unimpressive record for the season, but all MIAC teams are tough on their home floors, and this game should be rated a close affair. Dick Stanton, 6-4 and Wally Ericson, 6-4 are the post men in the Mac's double pivot style of play.

Tuesday the cagers invade Winona for a contest with St. Mary's, another cellar-dwelling quintet. The Redmen were listed as a pre-season darkhorse, but have failed to live up to the ratings.

The Bulldog ski team, under the guidance of Coach Ward Wells, will participate in the MIAC championship meet Tuesday at St. Olaf. The meet will be an open affair as well as the title-deciding event in the conference and will attract such outside teams as the University of Wisconsin, the University of Minnesota, Stout institute and Carleton college.

Candidates to represent UMD in the slalom, cross-country and jumping are vieing for positions in special try-outs this week.

Leading the list are Ivan Iverson and Mark Magney who compete in the slalom and jumping events. Other slalom aspirants are Arvid Slotness, Don Davis and Dick Nelson.

Competitors in the gruelling cross-country event will be chosen from among the following men: Lewis Ely, Everett Skare, Wilber Majjar, Don Davis, Dick McDonnell, Arvid Slotness, Dick Marks, and Elwood Johnson.

Jumpers for the Bulldogs in addition to Iverson and Magney will be Fred Murphy, Guy Olson and Elwood Johnson.

Hamline Pipers Defeat UMD As Fritsche, Lundquist Star

The mighty Pipers of Hamline unleashed their vaunted scoring power against the UMD Bulldogs in the second half to defeat the home squad by the score of 68-51.

The locals stepped out early to take a 15-6 lead which dwindled to a one-point deficit, 24-23, at halftime. After the intermission, Jim Fritsche, all-state center from St. Paul Humboldt, began to connect on his hook shots and the Pipers surged to a big lead. At one time, the visitors were ahead by 23 points.

In the final 10 minutes, the Maroon and Gold closed the margin by employing a rushing game. Fritsche emerged as the high scorer of the contest with a 20 point output. Rudy Monson garnered 15 counters for the losers. Dick Lundquist accounted for 11 points while playing a sterling defensive role by holding All-American Hal Haskins to 13 markers, 12 of them in the Pipers' second half drive. Joe Hutton, Jr. scored 14 points from his guard post.
